Seamless Floors for Award Winning California Brewery

Products used at Coronado Brewery

• Stonclad UT • Stonflex MP7 • Stonclad GS • Stonseal UT7

In 1996, brothers Ron and Rick Chapman put their long time dream into action, getting ahead of the craft brew curve and opening a brew pub in the heart of their hometown Coronado, California. By 2010, the Coronado Brewing company was brewing about 5,000 barrels of beer per year, allowing them to expand their reach beyond California. As the company continued to grow, so did their brewery; moving into a 22,000 square foot building in 2012.

In only a short time at the new facility, the Coronado Brewing Company began to face challenges common to breweries with sealed concrete floors; cracking and degradation from thermal temperature swings and chemical onslaughts. In addition, the wet floor put them at risk for injuries.

The solution was simple; a new floor manufactured and installed by Stonhard. A Stonhard floor withstands the harsh environment of a brewery, including thermal shock cycling and chemical abrasion, as well as provides an easy to clean, surface.

Stonhard installation crews worked carefully around machines and other equipment to prevent damage and maintain schedule

Stonclad UT, a textured polyurethane mortar floor stands up to thermal shock and thermal cycling.

As the recent award recipient of a top honor in the beer industry, their production schedule was running on high gear; it was important the new floor be installed without interfering with the Coronado Brewing Company's rigorous production schedule.

Seamless, chemical resistant and easy to clean floors help brewery operations to run smoothly.

Stonhard's Stonclad UT, a troweled polyurethane, textured mortar system is specifically formulated for harsh environments, and designed to withstand thermal shock cycling, as well as chemical resistance. The addition of the proper level of texture provides a slip resistant surface, without compromising ease of maintenance and sanitation.

Stonhard's experienced installation crew, prepped the existing substrate and installed Stonclad UT within a short duration and in the evening to ensure minimal impact on the brewery's production schedule. Additional care was given to the intricate work around the equipment to prevent damage and maintain the schedule.

The result? A facility equipped with durable, long-lasting, seamless floors to coincide with the award winning products produced at Coronado Brewing Company.

The Stonhard Difference

Stonhard is the unprecedented world leader in manufacturing and installing high performance polymer floor, wall and lining systems.
